

TODDS LEAP
RACKING & SHELVING

Providing Smart Storage Solutions

Adjustable Pallet Racking

We offer a complete range of Used Pallet racking from all the major manufacturers, we also stock and offer new pallet racking from a range of manufacturers. Adjustable Pallet racking (APR) has many uses from indoor to outdoor use, and in environments as cold as -40 degrees.

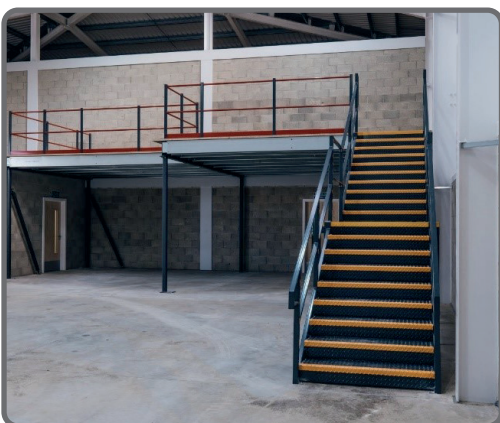

Drive in Racking

Drive in racking is designed for the bulk storage of products, typically similar our non-perishable products in addition to this, it is useful as it provides a high degree of space utilisation in terms of both area and height. Two management systems are available: the drive-in system, with drive in (First in last out) , and the drive-through system (first in first out).

Cantilever Racking

Cantilever racking is a valuable storage solution for longer and heavier items such as timber and steel as it is an adjustable open fronted system with a simple and high-strength structure which makes them very robust and able to withstand the rigours of the most arduous industrial environments.

Mezzanine Floors

The key benefit of a Mezzanine floor designed and installed by Todd's Leap racking and shelving is the ability to create new space fast and efficiently. Our mezzanine floors help you to maximize the space within your facility, adding additional and multiple levels above existing workspace.

Long Span Shelving

A favourite amongst our clients, long span is ideal almost anywhere from warehouses to retail storerooms and office archives, long span shelves are tough, long lasting, easily accessible and highly adaptable pieces of storage equipment. We offer plenty of choice in terms of design and size with a variety of build materials available so we can help you pick out something that is cost effective and capable for your requirements.

Boltless Shelving

A simple, manual storage and archiving system for light and medium loads. With its wide range of available accessories, panels, dividers and labels, it is the ideal solution for ordered storage of organising products into sections. Levels can be divided to allow perfect classification of small parts, folders, archives, hanging documents and more.

Work Benches

Work benches are a great asset in any part of a warehouse, garage or office as they are fully adaptable. As well as this, they are easy to install and saves you a lot of valuable floor space.

Lockers and Cupboards

Todd's Leap Racking & Shelving Offer a range of lockers and office cupboards available to suit each individuals' specific requirements. All of our UK Manufactured lockers and cupboards is completed to the highest standard.

Small Parts Storage

We offer a complete range of small parts storage solutions, from stackable, tipping pick bins in our TC container range to stackable Euro containers, are all among the most versatile container systems in our range, they're a go-to for warehouse storage and other production applications. When empty, these containers can be stacked together to provide a space-saving solution for smaller warehouses.

Inspections and Training

At Todd's Leap Racking and Shelving We Only Use SEMA Approved Racking Inspectors (SARI) for all racking inspections, it is highly recommended that all racking should be thoroughly inspected annually with some of our clients already having quarterly inspections.

We inspect all types and makes of racking and shelving including bespoke systems in all storage environments. All the necessary data is collated during the inspection and we have the expertise to calculate the safe working loads and provide the necessary notices to any type of storage system.

We also offer course's in Rack safety awareness training for all users our warehouse supervisors, this offers clients the ability to spot and find damage earlier and apply measures to prevent damage in the future.

Furthermore, we also offer Forklift, Mewp (Mobile elevated work platforms) and First aid Training.

Todd's Leap Racking & Shelving are one of Ireland's largest stockists of New & Used Storage Systems with over 30 years of experience in the industry. We offer complete & cost-effective storage solutions to suit every customer's individual needs and requirements.

We pride ourselves in our ability to adopt fast and effective solutions, with shorter lead times due to our expansive stock holding, we also have our own in-house installation teams and delivery team giving a seamless journey for our clients from the initial enquiry to the completion of the project.
